Facility Management Services

Our database of skilled and unskilled personnel provides for quick, efficient solutions for a variety of Human Resource Requirements.

We are also specialised in providing staff for BPOs and Back Office.

Facility management is an interdisciplinary field devoted to the coordination of space, infrastructure, people and organization, often associated with the administration of office blocks, arenas, schools, convention centers, shopping complexes, hospitals, hotels, etc. However, Facility management facilitates on a wider range of activities than just business services and these are referred to as non-core functions. Many of these are outlined below but they do vary from one business sector to another. In a 2009 Global Job Task Analysis the International Facility Management Association (IFMA) identified eleven core competencies of facility management. These are: communication; emergency preparedness and business continuity; environmental stewardship and sustainability; finance and business; human factors; leadership and strategy; operations and maintenance; project management; quality; real estate and property management; and technology.

Facility management has become highly competitive, subject to continuous innovation and development, under pressure to reduce costs and to add value to the core business of the client organisation where possible.

Fire protection is of paramount importance to us all, despite this in our everyday lives, it is often overlooked or taken for granted. For businesses however, the burden of responsibility imposed by H&S Law and the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, is both great and unforgiving.
